Hillside

Nimrod, or at least a miniature copy of that celebrated hunter, was around here soon after sunrise, his ever faithful repairing rifle was across his broad shoulder and he strutted out from home minus his coat, his shirt showing up well against the dark foliage and giving fair warning that something of importance was about.

The crops at Hillside are in good condition; the "yellow flower" being very scarce. My opinion having been asked as to how a certain large acreage looked which is situated not many miles from the town Fire Engine, I could not but help remark that there was too much mustard. The farmer replied as warmly as that condition with a little vinegar thrown in. "Yet when you have farmed as long as I have, you'll have weeds too." Conditional prophecy is often fairly safe.

Although we are mostly tootlers up this way, we are now continually seeing snakes.

Now that the dog days are upon us and some people have already been bitten, it will not be out of place to mention a capital plan suitable for adoption when in a tight place with no stick or stone in view. During a conversation with a clergyman in which many subjects were touched upon, the following method of defence against savage dogs was related. He said he had just opened a gate and was about to proceed when a dog proceeded to put itself in biting attitude, snapping and snarling. The Reverend gentleman took off his hat (not in any politeness to the dog) and held it to the brute, which immediately made a dash for the clergyman and suddenly drawn back his right foot which he just as quickly brought up with such force as to strike the canine's jaw that it was hurled some distance where it yelled, pen and ink till it left off. Position to make this effective:—Take hat or cap in hand as if presenting it to dog, draw back leg and send up foot under the animal's jaw. If this is done properly, surprise, failure and dismay with many yelps will emanate from the defeated enemy.

Nashville

Fine weather and the crops are grown fine.

People in this vicinity have started to make hay and the hay crop appears to be fine this year.

Where is the man who said that Nashville won't have a town? The new railroad is coming through and they are building a sidetrack and laying out a town site.

Land is advancing in price on account of the new railroad and the town site.

John Salstrom is putting a new board roof on his stable this week which is a much needed improvement, besides adding greatly to appearance of the farm.

I wonder what this country would be like if the people had to build a pasture for their stock and keep the stock at home? I think it would be much better than the way it is at present, as a man can't leave a gate open but he will have his field full of stock. Think this matter over people.

Battle Lake

A picnic will be held on the premises of James McLaughlin on Saturday next, July 30th, commencing at 11 o'clock. Games of all kinds, including baseball and football, will be held. Confectionery for the children. Everybody come and bring your baskets.

Coming Back to Canada

There's a huddle on the border, There's a shuffling of feet, Where the shores of the Republic and the big Dominion meet, For the sons of the Dominion who have wandered far away, Are coming back to Canada, to-day.

True, their children sing "America" and "Hands Across the Sea," And they themselves have learned to love the land of liberty, But it's feet across the border now and toes the other way. They are coming back to Canada to-day.

Refrain— They are coming back to Canada, there may be nothing wrong With the land of their adoption, but they've been away so long; Some of them have soldiered there and some of them are gray; They are coming back to Canada to-day.

Now the sleeping empire's waking and their loyal hearts are thrilled, For they're hearing from the home-folk who have tarried here and tilled; Straight they march and never falter, never lag on the line, Though they leave the friendly palm tree for the pine.

They are coming back to Canada, new empire of the West, To the boundless fields and forests, of the land that they love best; Aye it's feet across the border now and toes the other way; They are coming back to Canada to-day.

Cy. Warman.

Battle River

The largest and best picnic ever held in this district will be held on Saturday, August 6th. A baseball game between Little Beaver and Battle River will take place and a good game is expected. A dance will be held at Mr. Smolund's on Friday night, to which all are invited. Everybody come to the picnic and have a good time.

THURSDAY, JULY 28 1904.

War News

Paris, July 26.—A dispatch from New Chwang says that heavy fighting continues all day long, (July 24). The battle lasted 18 hours. Russians were driven back on the east side and were reported to be utterly routed on the north.

A dispatch says that the Russians have evacuated New Chwang, which Japanese will probably take possession of on July 26th.

London, July 26th.—Cabling
under date of July 24, New Chwang correspondent describes a fourteen hour desperate battle with heavy losses on both sides and which resulted in the Russian position at Ta Teh Kiao being rendered untenable by reason of which the Russians were compelled to retire towards Liao Yang.
The battle began at 6 o'clock in the morning, the correspondent says, the Russians resuming the attack on the Japanese on the heights of Ta Teh Kiao.

After a few hours the Japanese left flank captured the village of Tangchudi Tuen, compelling Russians to retire to Tienkung Tuen, six miles from their base. The Russians now reinforced maintained their position until five o'clock in the afternoon when the Japanese right flank gave a sudden advance on the hills south of Ta Teh Kiao and by tremendous fire forced the Russians to retire.

Japanese firing line extended 15 miles and after two more hours of an incessant fire of shot and shell they swept the last hill and plain clear of Russians.

London, July 26.—A dispatch from Liao Yang reports heavy fighting there all day yesterday.
Russian casualties were thought to exceed 400 while Japanese are said to have lost the more men.
Japanese who were attacking the southern detachment were forced to retire precipitately leaving their dead and wounded on the field.

Port Said, July 25.—The steamer Smolenak of the Russian navy sailed from New York on June 15th for Manila. She arrived at Port Said on July 11.
Gen. Kuroki's headquarters in the field, July 20.—(Via Funan, Cora, July 22.—Japanese attacks on Russians at Kiao Tung yesterday resulted in another Russian disaster.

Kiao Tung is 25 miles from Japanese headquarters. Few details of the engagements have been received, but they indicate that the fighting was fierce. Russians had more than one division engaged and artillery was freely used.
Russians are fortifying new positions. Motion passed. There were more men killed in the fighting of Sunday day, July 17th, than can be buried, and the Japanese are now engaged in cremating the bodies.

General Kuroki's headquarters in the field, Via Funan, July 24.—
As a result of five days activity the Japanese have much better lines from their advance, and the Russians have lost their best defended positions on both Liao Yang and Maikien roads. Four Russian guns shelled one of the Japanese position for an hour this morning without result. The Japanese guns remained silent.
Major Hira Gino, who was wounded July 19th, has died. He was attached to the British army in the Boer war. Heavy rains have commenced again.

Nuch Wang, July 25th.—A battle was fought near Ta Teh Kiao attended with heavy losses.
The progress of the battle was watched by many people in New Chwang from the roofs of the houses. The day was clear and the smoke of the guns could be plainly seen.

Tien Tain, July 25th.—News has reached here that a battle is raging outside of Kiao Chou. In the engagement yesterday the Russian losses are reported to have been seven hundred. The Japanese are slowly nearing New Chwang. Great excitement prevailed in that city during to-day's and yesterday's fight.

Northern Alberta Creameries Doing Well

One of our representatives who has been spending some time in Northern Alberta writes:

In Northern Alberta dairying still more than holds its own, and new creameries are being erected at quite a number of different points without Government assistance.

At Innisfail they had a good winter's make and at the opening of June were making 3,000 pounds a week. The output for the next six months is estimated at 175,000 pounds.

Red Deer Creamery has been in operation all winter and made some 100,000 pounds. During the last week (the commencement of June) they made 1,400 lbs., and although Blackfalds and Lacombe creamery is now made up at the new creameries at these places, still Red Deer expects to turn out a larger output than ever.

At Blackfalds they have a nice little creamery doing good work.
They made about 1,300 pounds during May, and expect a season of about 75,000 pounds.

Owing to heavy trails and the difficulty in engaging cream haul-ers, Lacombe creamery has only made a fair start.

New creameries are being built at Ponoka and Leduc, which, when in operation, will add considerably to the butter output of Alberta.

At all the creameries eggs are brought in by cream haulers and are sent on to Calgary with shipments of butter, and from there distributed to the different towns in British Columbia.—Nor. West Farmer.

An Rhythmic's Story Told Sleepless nights, suffocating sensations, difficult to even breath. "I can scarcely describe all I suffered from asthma," writes Mrs. R. P. Cavanaugh of Colborne, "Spasms of Coughing would come on that made me work.
Nothing did me any good until I used the fragrant, healing Catarrhine.
I am delighted to recommend this remedy which cured me of chronic asthma after scores of good physicians had given me up. Catarrhine is better for asthma given quicker result than any remedy I know of. My cure is a perfect one. Try Catarrhine.
It never fails to cure asthma.

Little things often cause much annoyance. Station-

If you buy at the right place, it is just as easy to

CATCHING AN EDITION.

A Reporter's Efforts to Get His Story on the Wire.

News of the blowing up and sinking of a steamer on the Ohio river reached the office of a Pittsburgh paper one evening some years ago. The city editor sent a young reporter out on a search for the facts. The search developed into an adventure such as any workman may tumble into at any hour of the day or night. World's Work tells the story.

He hurried to the station and caught the first westward bound express. When the train had started, he learned that it did not stop within sixty miles of the scene.

A cautious hint from a Pullman porter apprised him of the presence of a division superintendent on the train, and in a few minutes he received an order from the conductor to stop the train for him.

Reaching the station late at night, he asked the telegraph operator to remain until he returned. Then he walked several miles, got his "story" and hurried back to the station, only to find that the operator had disregarded his request and closed the office.

Time was creeping into the morning, and he had the prospect of all his work coming to naught unless he secured an operator to get the story to the telegraph office. He looked about the dark village and found that the operator lived several miles away.

The operator of the plant was induced to leave his home, and he was taken to the station. Huddled against the stark, the young reporter recalled back and forth on the platform of the station he saw the sleeping form of a tramp. He kicked the hobo and ordered him $5 to make the trip for the operator.

The man got to his feet.

"Do you want an operator?"

"Yes."

"I'm a bum, but I was an operator. If you can get into that station, I'll send your stuff, but I won't touch a door or a window myself."

Knowing that the newspaper would gladly pay damages, the reporter took a chance and the tramp made the trip. In the trunk clanked the office of the story, and it reached the office in time to go to press.

Read For White Stockings.

The story was recently told of a nurse who, proceeding to the tropics, on consulting the matron of the hospital, who was in England at the time, as to her outfit was advised to take one pair of white stockings. Curious to know why, she asked the reason and received the terse answer: "To be buried in."

As showing the spirit in which nurses are treated in the tropics, knowing full well the risks—British Journal of Nursing.

Thanks and Mechanics.

Two men got into an argument the other day over the expansion of steam in a cylinder. "Why" said one, "I don't know anything about machinery and the principles of mechanics. Your humble one is not a stupid fellow. He went on to explain that a man with long thin thumbs did not have a mechanical turn, while those with thick thumbs, broad at the ends, were natural born mechanics. "I never believed in physiognomy," he said, "but I believe in thumbs."

C. N. R. Laying Steel.

The correspondent of the Edmonton Journal at Lloydminster writes that the Canadian Northern railroad contractors near Battleford are at present laying two miles of rail daily, and that the steel will be laid to Lloydminster this fall. This is coming near to Edmonton, but not as near as our citizens would wish. The termination of the C. N. R. at Lloydminster is west of there for a year—for it will in all probability be a year before the C. N. R. lays the steel to Edmonton—will draw a large amount of wholesale trade away from Edmonton for the coming twelve months.

However, after the line is completed to Edmonton the trade which the east will bound ahead, for in spite of small favor shown this town by the railway's commercial importance of Edmonton will soon make itself felt. The railways apparently realize this, for they are intent on developing outlet centres for fear that Edmonton gets too great a start. The contract for the track laying on the C. N. R. is in the hands of S. R. H. Robinson, one of the best known contractors on the American continent, and apparently he is rushing the work along. His present contract with the C. N. R. includes the work on the main line from mile 308, which is the terminus of the steel already laid, to Edmonton, distant by mile 827, a total distance of 519 miles of the Canadian Northern grading, which was done last season, but upon which no steel was laid. At the beginning of the year track was laid for 93 miles west from Grand View, Man., the terminus of what was formerly known as the Gilbert Plains branch, but which will be the main line of the C. N. R. system. This carried the line well on to the White Sand River. From near Sand River about 20 miles has been graded, and another stretch of about twenty miles has been graded between the end of steel and Little Quill Lake. There has been considerable progress made with the construction of the substructure for the bridge crossing the south Saskatchewan river about four miles from Oiler, Sask., and also with the substructure for the bridge over the North Saskatchewan.

THE SPIDER TREE.

A Traveller's Product of the Cape Negro Country of Africa.

Travelers who visited or passed the Cape Negro country of Africa, often heard of a spider tree, a tree of a plant that was part spider and that, growing, threw its legs about in a grotesque manner to escape. It was the good fortune of Dr. W. H. Whitlock to discover the origin of the legend. Striding along through a wind swept tableland country, he came upon a plant that rested low upon the ground, but had two enormous leaves that blew and twisted about in the wind like serpents—a tree, it looked, as the natives had said, like a giant spider.

Its stem was four feet across and but a foot high. It had but two leaves in reality, that were six or eight feet long and split up by the wind so that they resembled ribbons. This is probably the most extraordinary tree known.

It grows for nearly, if not quite a century, but never upward beyond about a foot, simply expanding until it reaches the diameter given, looking in its adult state like a single stem about six feet from the ground to eight inches in circumference.

When the wind came rushing in from the sea, lifting the prospect of all leaves and tossing them about, it almost seemed to the discoverer that the plant had actually become wind-bowed with life and was struggling to escape. When a description and picture of the plant were sent to England, it was, like many other discoveries, discredited, but soon the plant itself was received, and the plant which the natives know as the spider tree.

School News.

The child born today may expect four years' longer life than the child born fifty years ago. One of the agents for bringing about this result is the school teacher. The child born today is brought up in a more healthful environment than the child of fifty years ago. Another Wireless Method.

Peter Cooper Hewitt has perfected a wireless method which, it is said, is superior to Marconi's method. The device consists of a glass globe of ten inches in diameter, having two tubes containing mercury sealed to the bottom of the globe. The operation of this device depends upon a new phenomenon in physics which Mr. Hewitt discovered and no one else knows.

Eagles in the Tennessee Mountains.

There are many eagles in the Tennessee mountains, and consequently there are many mountaineers who are expert catchers of the young eagles. These men are paid to return for their perilsous risks and adventures, and some of them receive as much as $2,000 for a single year's catch.
